MATT GAWLIK

Ameritexicana Rockgrass Music

Honing his songwriting skills for the last 30 years, Matt is an astute observer of the human condition, weaving words and melody to tell not only his story but the stories that have touched him over the years. All of this comes together to form his signature style: Ameritexicana Rockgrass. A lively blend of southern rock, country, blues, bluegrass and so much more all served up with heaping helping of soul and Texas bravado.

While touting enough songs for an all original show, Matt also boasts a hefty catalog of covers spanning a vast array of styles and even some genre-bending surprises that are always a crowd-pleaser. Whether it's an originals only act, a rowdy bar or restaurant, a chill acoustic setting or private parties and events of all kinds, Matt can cover it all. No matter where or when, He arrives with professional gear and a professional attitude.
